PRESIDENT ORDERED ARMY TRIAL

LOS ANGELES HAS ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY

Clothing and Bones Found By Workmen

Investigators Check Tenants Of House Where Bones Were Found

CLOTHING IS BLOOD STAINED

Evidence of Past Crime Is Found In Palatial Home

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—Evidence of what may prove another mystery murder was disclosed here tonight, with the finding of bones thought to be those of a human. Clothing bearing the mark of Marshall Field, Chicago and stained with blood were found with the bones in a secret crypt underneath a palatial home, 161 Huntington Drive, South Pasadena.

This is the home that was recently purchased by the estate of the late McCullough Graydon who was killed in a rent war in Venice four years ago.

Investigators started an investigation of the former tenants of the house and the bones and blood stained clothing were sent to an expert for classification.

Religion In Home Recommended by Judge Alvarado

"The Importance of Religion in the Home" was the subject of the talk given by Judge H. V. Alvarado last night at the dinner of the Men's and Boy's club at the First Methodist church. The address was enjoyed by the large crowd that was present.

Much credit is due to Mesdames C. C. Sanford, J. O. Weston, J. P. Smith, H. A. Grover, and Duthelm for the excellent dinner that was served.

Short addresses were made by G. F. Glineberg and Dr. Thomas A. Boyer.

The Boy Scout troop, No. 1, was adopted by the Brotherhood at the meeting last night.

Announcement was made by Rev. W. P. Grant that the next dinner would be held the latter part of November and several good speakers are in view for the night, among them, Chester Rowell, Dr. W. S. Matthews and Dr. Thomas A. Boyer.

MARTINEZ MAY HAVE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

A survey of the school situation in Martinez is being conducted by L. E. Hart, University of California professor and an experienced school planner.

Hart's survey it is stated has to deal with the possibility of centralizing some of the school activities at the county seat. A preliminary report has already been submitted to the school board recommending the establishment of a Junior high school, according to T. B. Swift, clerk of the school board.

Vandalism Not To Be Permitted

Warning has been issued by Police Chief Dan Cox that on Saturday night, Halloween anyone damaging property in an effort to aid the ghosts to walk, will be punished by a night in jail. Chief Cox said that he wanted all to have a good time, but pranks must be kept within reason. Care should be taken that no harm is done, the chief said. A special detail of policemen will be on duty to curb the activities of a vandalistic gang.

COUNTY REAL ESTATE MEN PLAN CLASS

Realtors of Contra Costa county are to have the benefit of a course of instruction in the sale and handling of real estate, according to plans laid at the meeting of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board last night. The board held its monthly meeting at the Den O'Sweets with A. L. Faulsen president, presiding. Definite plans for the extension course are to be laid out at the next meeting of the board, which will be held in Martinez on November 18. The course is not to be confined to real estate men alone, but others not in that business will be invited to attend the classes. At the Martinez meeting a professor from the University of California will outline the course to the real estate men.

A new schedule of commissions for real estate transactions in the county is to be worked out by a committee appointed last night. This committee consisting of E. B. Bull, W. J. Richards and C. A. Ricks, will make a report at the next meeting. It is probable that the local board will adopt the same schedule now used in Oakland, as it is the desire of the state organization to work out a statewide uniform schedule within a few years.

Another committee consisting of C. H. Hayden and C. A. Ricks, was appointed to interview the superior judges of the county with the idea of adopting a uniform schedule on commissions and commission divisions on probate sales. A rule of this nature has been adopted in most of the counties of the state, and is said to be working out to the advantage of all concerned.

Real estate men from all parts of the county were in attendance at the meeting last night.

RING LEADER IN LABOR TROUBLE SENT TO JAIL

With the arrest of their ring leader, H. Statter, the alleged agitators returned to their work at the Johns-Manville plant in Pittsburg yesterday, after a walk-out over a dispute of hours. The men had agreed to work a ten hour shift to rush completion on the construction before the rains made the work impossible. Statter was arrested and convicted on a charge of battery and sentenced to ninety days in the county jail.

Only $60,000 Paid In Insurance Here

According to the Insurance Press for October which is just off the press there was paid in Richmond during the year 1924 a total of $60,000 for life insurance. Richmond is way at the bottom of the list of cities of the same population in the nation for the amount of insurance paid and below a great many that have much smaller population than Richmond.

Whether this is due to the fact that the death rate in Richmond is smaller than the cities that lead it in insurance or whether it is due to the fact that not much insurance is carried by residents here is not indicated in the report.

McGILVRAY TO ADDRESS CLUB

The speaker of the day before the Richmond Rotary club to day will be John A. McGilvray, chairman of the California Industrial Accident commission. The musical program will be arranged by A. W. Mueller and Chief W. P. Cooper will be chairman of the day.

REAL "BLIND PIGS" STUFFED WITH BOTTLES OF LIQUOR, COME FROM CANADA BUT ARE SEIZED AT DETROIT

These hogs, which concealed a cargo of rum, were smuggled across the border from Canada but the watchfulness of Federal dry agents prevented the liquor from reaching its destination. The Provincial Police of British Columbia were responsible for the seizure of the "blind pigs."

BRIDE PREFERS CHARGE AGAINST FORMER BEAU

Accused of a statutory offense with his former sweetheart, now the wife of another man, Frank Ferner of Crockett is being held in the county jail in default of $2,500 bail.

French Expected To Submit New Dept Proposal

By FRANK E. NASON
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Oct. 29.—The new French cabinet's war debt counter-proposals to America's temporary project will probably be on a five-year basis, but cannot exceed $30,000,000 yearly.

This is the idea of the new minister of the budget, Georges Bannet, with Premier Painleve. Bannet will divide the functions of the finance ministry.

Negotiations regarding the war debts will be continued through the French ambassador at Washington. Although it is too soon for him to speak for the new cabinet, Bannet believes that the French government will not be able to pay more than one and a half per cent interest on the debt to America. He places that rate as the absolute maximum.

Supporters of the deposed finance minister, Caillaux, are optimistic tonight and predict a new cabinet crisis within four weeks, when they expect Caillaux to become premier.

High School Circus Will Be Held Here This Evening

By the Drop-out Stick.
A riot of screaming comedy, animals, clowns, tumblers, side shows and numerous other attractions to draw crowds from far and wide will be seen at the annual Richmond high school carnival for the benefit of the athletic fund at the school tonight.

The circus rolled into the city late last evening and the animals were put through their stunts to the satisfaction of the managers. A full rehearsal of the entire show was held and Ivan Hill and Clara Mc-Lauren, promoters of the gala events were satisfied that everything will go off without a hitch.

This afternoon the parade advertising the carnival will leave the high school at 4 o'clock to march down Macdonald avenue. Amid the blowing of horns and whistles the animals of the circus will prance gaily down the avenue to the tunes played by the circus callopie and music from the clown band.

A real animal circus will feature the event. An unequalled array of clowns, tumblers, dancing with the

WARDEN SMITH DENIES THREAT OF RESIGNATION

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 29.—Governor Friend W. Richardson and the members of the State Prison Board were notified by Warden Frank J. Smith, of San Quentin today that reports published that he would resign his position if George A. Van Smith was not removed from the board, were false.

The governor gave out the statement that he was convinced of the truth of the warden's denials as the law fixes the warden's term at four years and the directors' terms at ten years. Richardson also is reported to have said that "the warden should not be messenger boys for the prison board."

This statement is the first word from the chief executive's office in regard to the break between Smith and Van Smith, which is said to have resulted from the prison director issuing orders to prison employees over the head of the warden. The governor said that it is his policy to give the head of every department full power to conduct his office and be responsible for the results.

Friends of Mrs. Ernest Flores, 2534 Solto avenue are glad to hear that she has recovered from the minor operation that she underwent in the Berkeley General hospital last week.

UNKNOWNNS HOLD HALF INTEREST IN TERMINAL CORP.

(INSTALLMENT NO. 14)

The articles of incorporation of the Richmond Terminal corporation, the company that enjoys a most profitable monopoly at the municipal wharf at the expense of the City of Richmond, were filed with the county clerk at Martinez, September 7, 1918. They were signed by the incorporators, August 28, 1918.

The purpose as set forth cover about every activity imaginable. The capital stock provided for is $10,000.

It is divided into 1000 shares of $10 each.

There was subscribed $120 which represents 12 shares.

It was subscribed as follows:

O. Zugz, 2 shares, $20.

O. Zugz, (trustee) 4 shares, $40.

H. M. Wade, 2 shares, $20.

H. M. Wade, (trustee) 2 shares, $20.

J. S. Ourish, 2 shares, $20.

The directors named for the first year are O. Zugz of Oakland, H. M. Wade of San Francisco and J. S. Ourish of San Francisco.

The absorbing question in connection with the incorporation papers is "Who are the 'unknowns' for whom Zugz and Wade were issued stock as trustees."

It will be noticed that the total amount of stock held as trustees is the same as the total amount of stock issued to the three directors. (MORE TOMORROW.)

Greco-Bulgarian Affairs in Hands Of Commission

(By Universal Service)

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Demilitarized zones will be established along the Greco-Bulgarian border to prevent a repetition of the recent trouble. This condition will probably be fore- upon both countries by a commission appropriated $20,000 for the expenses of the commission and outlined their functions as:

1. To supervise the liberation of prisoners taken by both sides since the beginning of the trouble.
2. To control the restoration of movable property and live stock.
3. To decide on a suitable compensation in payment of the unreturnable property, which was destroyed by both sides.
4. To report on the cause and the possible responsible parties of the trouble.
5. To recommend actions which would prevent a repetition of the trouble.

Chief Executive Exercised Power As Commander In Chief

HAVE FAR REACHING EFFECT

Attempts to Have Charges Squashed Are Not Successful

BY JAMES R. NOURSE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Upsetting all military precedents in the history of the nation, President Coolidge personally ordered the courtmartial of Colonel "Billy" Mitchell for criticizing the air service.

This fact established and entered in the record of today's session of the military court now trying Mitchell, stood out clear above a maze of legal argument and squabble, between the flying colonel's prosecutors and defenders.

It was disclosed that President Coolidge was the "commanding officer" required by military regulations to recommend an investigation and later a courtmartial.

It was admitted that General Ernest Hind, commanding the Eighth Corps Area at San Antonio, Mitchell's immediate superior, had nothing to do with directing that Mitchell be brought to trial.

BANDIT ATTACKS OAKLAND WOMAN

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Dorothy Delrich, 25, was attacked and robbed yesterday by a desperado, who entered her house and seized her while she was playing with her 22 months old baby. After threatening to kill the infant if she screamed, Mrs. Delrich was bound and gagged. Her father W. T. Lane found her in hysterical condition when he returned from a walk. Mrs. Delrich described the man to the police as being at least six feet tall, weighing 200 pounds, dark-complexioned and with a scar on the right side of his face.

WE NEED EFFICIENT NAVY

Our thirtieth president agrees with our first one in the belief that America must have an efficient navy, according to Theodore Douglas Robinson, first assistant secretary of the navy.

"As regards our national naval policy we find marked similarity of utterance from the lips of our presidents. Let us compare the words of our first president on this issue with those of our thirtieth:

"George Washington, January 8, 1790—"To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace." December 7, 1796—"To secure respect to a neutral flag requires a naval force organized and ready to vindicate it from insult or aggression. This may even prevent the necessity of going to war by discouraging belligerent powers from committing such violations of the rights of the neutral party as may, first or last, leave no other option."

"Calvin Coolidge, March, 1925—"Our country represents nothing but peaceful intentions, but it ought not to fail to maintain such a military force as conforms with the dignity and security of a great people. It should be so conducted that all the world may see in it but an instrument of security and peace."

"There was a time in our nation's history when we tried the experiment of getting along without a navy. Jefferson, though not from Missouri, wanted to be shown. His plan briefly was to shelve the navy like the old pioneer would his musket, to be brought into action upon necessity simply by removing it from the peg and adding powder, shot and a steady aim. The probability that the musket might be a bit rusty and the aim a bit unsteady when needed did not seem to bear much weight. The country was hard up financially so he tried international finesse."

"Jefferson said: 'If we delay a few years the necessity of vindicating the laws of nature on the ocean, we shall be the more sure of doing it with effect. The day is within my time as well as yours when we may see by what laws other nations shall treat us on the sea.'"

"The finesse failed and we paid dearly as evidenced by the burning of the capitol, our ports blockaded, our coasts ravaged and our commerce ruined. We have also seen by what law another nation treated us on the sea in this day and age."

Anyhow its some relief to know that we got the French commission out of the country without lending them any more money.

The Anklet Appears as a Beguiling
Bit of Feminine Adornment.

THE anklet is one bit of Oriental jewelry the lure of which Occidental women have until now resisted. Most women of America or Eastern Europe would as soon appear in public wearing a nose ring as an anklet. We used to read of the tinkling of the anklets of the girls of India as they foregathered at the wells for water at close of day—very picturesque and enticing, no doubt, but still a trifle barbaric. Could it be that we would ever adopt this fashion along with our low-cut shoes, corsetless waists, scarfs and simplified costumes that have undoubtedly been very largely of Oriental inspiration?

Nowadays we hear a lot about the way that the women of China and India and Turkey are giving up their own national costume and adopting French fashions and we think that the wave of influence has all been from west to east—little realizing that counter influence that has been at work carrying eastern ideas of clothes to the fashion centers of the Occident.

And now we have the anklet, or at least enough women have worn anklets here and there to make women ask themselves whether or not it will eventually be as usual a form of jewelry as earrings or bangles. To begin with, it may have been the motion picture stars that wore them, but very recently anklets have appeared around the slender ankles through which run blood as blue as aristocratic as anyone might wish. To be sure these anklets have been rather inconspicuous. They were of slender links and worn beneath the stocking of cobwebby fineness. And the effect seemed anything but barbaric. Of course they did not tinkle like those worn by the intriguing damsels of India.

For the woman who hasn't quite the courage to wear the real anklet there are stockings with openwork circles round the ankle which take the place of the regular stocking. There are metal gauze stockings—of French origin of course—and these are usually embellished with an embroidered anklet—a gold one on silver metal stockings and a silver anklet on the gold stockings.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

COLORS OF SMARTNESS

PRIVILEGE or preventive blue is a color that French women do not seem to tire of, and quite recently at many smart gatherings in the French capital this lovely shade has been spoken of as, next to beige, most highly favored hue to be seen. In fact it is said that it has been well high impossible to buy preventive blue materials in the shops—so large has been the demand from the dressmakers for this color.

The word "nude," like "flesh," has certain disadvantages as a color name. To a Chinese lady either of these words would mean one thing, to a Parisian another. In New York you would get one shade, in mid-Africa another. Interestingly enough the shade that the French call "nude" is not the shade that we would give to the name, for though there are plenty of dark complexions on this side of the Atlantic, and we are by no means a race of blondes, still the native American seldom has the flesh tints of that even, mellow brunette tone that is characteristic of the French woman, and that is the tone had in mind when they speak of "nude." One of the few tones that is spoken of quite a lot at present is Callot nude. It is a lovely shade between a cream and a beige that Callot has been using quite a lot and that is very smart in the new hats.

You may prefer the more conservative links of silver gold or platinum. Someone commented the other day that anklets were really the most decorous of accessories, since they tended to detract attention from the knees and garters which have taken such prominence since fashion issued her decree in favor of very short skirts.

"BOBBED HAIR" with Marie Prevost is a pictorialization of this story by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Connemara Moore is in a quandary. She doesn't know whether to bob or not to bob. The question is momentous, for the state of her hair when she appears at Aunt Celinda's that night is to be a sign whether she shall marry Bingham Carrington or Saltonstall Cabot Adams. She must announce her engagement before midnight on the last day of June or sacrifice her aunt's estate, to which otherwise she will fall heir. The time is growing uncomfortably short.

CHAPTER I—Continued

The fun began at once. They were a noisy young lot, there was racing and chasing o'er Canobie Lee, there was guying and flirting and petting and all the modern substitutes for Shakespeare and the musical glances. And beneath it all the undercurrent of excitement, wondering what Connemara meant to do.

Late that evening she had two sessions, one with each of her chosen knights.

Bing was first. They walked down the paths to the rambling arbor and sat there, while he pleaded his cause with real eloquence. He was a perfect courtier, and his manners were more than perfect. He could rise at the appearance of a lady, without looking as if he had just heard the first notes of "The Star Spangled Banner." He could hold her cape for her without the effect of hanging out the Monday wash. He was intensely modern, up to date, and a little beyond.

"Of course, you'll marry me, my Cayenne Fairy Queen," he exclaimed. "We are each other's own, twin halves of a perfect soul made one, development, our psychic—" "Cut it out, Connemara!" called Poppy Glenn's shrill voice as she and Dicky Bird intruded themselves upon the scene.

Others followed, and before them all Cayenne Fairy gave her ultimatum.

"I'll decide this matter myself," she said, as they all flung advice at her at once. "Tomorrow, I'll run down to New York, and back, in time for dinner. If I get my hair bobbed while I'm there, it's mine; I mean to marry Bing. If I come back with my hair as is, it's a sure sign Salt is the man."

Cheers greeted this speech, and there was a sound of revelry by night that dismissed for the time being the subject under discussion. The next afternoon Connemara went to New York. The whole crowd went along, but she went alone into the hairdresser's parlors.

Her going did not necessarily mean a bob; she was as undecided as ever when she advanced to the desk to keep her appointment.

She had arranged by telephone that she was to have the time, and if she concluded at the last minute not to have her hair bobbed, she would pay for the time and keep her locks intact.

The lady at the desk smiled and waved her to an appointed cubicle, where pretty bobbed-haired girls let down her auburn mass and brushed it out.

Then the man with the shears came in. Connemara had a vivid remembrance of the picture in "Struwwelpeter" where the great shears open to cut off Conrad's thumbs.

"Why should I waste kisses on a girl who may be another's wife?" he declared.

and all that. You never could stand that hatchet-faced, beetle-browed, lantern-jawed, gimlet-eyed old Pilgrim Puritan of a Salt Adams. You know you couldn't. And I want you to have your hair bobbed tomorrow, and tomorrow night at the dance we'll tell all and sundry our precious secret. How about it, my honey-blossom off of a peach tree?"

"I'll see, Bing. I don't know—really I don't yet. But I'll decide tomorrow, of course, and I'll let you know."

"Good! If you decide against me, don't bother to forward the information. But you won't—you can't. Oh, my little Connemara, nobody could love you as I will—as I do. Star of my soul!"

"I know, Bing—I know. But run now, Saltonstall is coming here. If I decide on you, I'll have my hair bobbed tomorrow, and if I take him, I won't. So you'll know."

Carrington went reluctantly, and Adams came to the arbor, where Connemara had promised him an interview.

It was a stormy one. Salt had a temper equal to Connemara's own, and the two struck sparks.

"I shan't make love to you," he declared, "until you say you will marry me. Why should I waste kisses on a girl who may be another's wife? But Connemara, don't, I beg of you, don't make the mistake of accepting Bing Carrington. He's a fortune hunter, a wastrel, a spendthrift. He cares only for the almighty bobbed-haired flapper sort. He'd make you one of that ilk, and it is not your matter! Come to me, Fairy darling, we will have pleasures of the intellect, of the mind, of the soul, such as that village cut up can't even understand! I will love you with a devotion, an idolatry, all the deeper and finer and sweeter because of our mental

"Wait a minute," she said convulsively, almost hysterically, as he drew the white apron closer about her neck.

He waited, shears open and poised above her head as she watched him in the mirror.

As in a dream the visions whirled across her mind. Life with Bing, happy, debonair, good-natured; life with Salt, clever, deep thinker, distinguished.

Bing, aflame with Southern ardor of devotion. Salt, quivering with passionate idolatry. Bing, triumph of muscular perfection, victor of all out-door sports; Salt, mentally great, full of imagination and creative genius. Oh, which should it be?

The shears hovered. In the mirror she saw the puzzled face of the barber as he wondered at her indecision.

She held her future poised on the clip of those shining blades. A word from her and the first clip would proclaim her irrevocably pledged to Bing Carrington. Or a mere protest would close those steel arbiters of Fate, and she would be the bride of the worthy scion of the Adams family.

Suddenly, like a flash, illumination came. Her inner soul spoke, the truth appeared to her—she knew!

When Connemara rejoined the crowd who waited for her, they stared at her radiant face. Eagerly they looked at her hair, but her small tight-fitting cloche of a hat was drawn down closely over her whole head, and no hint could be gained as to the state of Cayenne Fairy's hair.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION IS GIVEN OUT

By the President of the United States of America:
A proclamation:
The season approaches when, in accordance with a long-established and respected custom, a day is set apart to give thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings which His gracious and benevolent providence has bestowed upon us as a nation and as individuals.
We have been brought with safety and honor through another year, and, through the generosity of nature He has blessed us with resources whose potentiality in wealth is almost incalculable; we are at peace at home and abroad; the public health is good; we have been undisturbed by pestilence or great catastrophes; our harvests and our industries have been rich in productivity; our commerce spreads over the whole world, and labor has been well rewarded for its remunerative service.
As we have grown and prospered in moral and spiritual things. We are a God-fearing people who should set ourselves against evil and strive for righteousness in living, and observing the golden rule we should from our abundance help and serve those less fortunately placed. We should bow in gratitude to God for His many favors.
Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their work and in their homes or in their accustomed places of worship devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received, and to seek His guidance that they may deserve a continuance of His favor.
In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
Done at the city of Washington this twenty-sixth day of October in the year of our Lord and thousand nine

ESKIMO TRIES TO CONSTRUCT OWN TELEPHONE

Ignorance, regarding the telephone, is present in many highly civilized countries, and so it would be expected that the eskimos would have little or no knowledge of this instrument.
G. R. Culvert, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. here, quotes a story of an interesting experience of Donald MacMillan, the explorer, taken from the "Southwestern Telephone News."
"As the warm sun of the short Northern summer melted the snow over the former camping-ground of a previous expedition, MacMillan discovered considerable debris, including some wire and one old telephone mouthpiece. His Eskimo companion showed intense interest in the white man's explanation of the use of the telephone. When the explorer turned in for a few hours' sleep, the ingenious native tried his hand at telephone line construction.
Along the bleak Arctic coast ran a straggling row of split boards about five feet high, from which was festooned a couple of hundred yards of wire. A single telephone mouthpiece dangled at one end of the line, and before it stood a solitary Eskimo. Into this improvised telephone he shouted a few words in his native language, then ran madly along the pole line, clapped the far end of the wire to his ear, and listened for his own message. All he heard was the wind whistling over the icebound waters along the grim Northwest coast of Greenland.
Disappointed, but still hopeful, the Eskimo returned to the mouthpiece. Evidently feeling that he had not sprinted quite fast enough the first time, he repeated the process with an extra burst of speed, only to be disappointed again. Just then there appeared around the corner of the hut the white explorer who had given him the scrap wire and the old mouthpiece. Immediately the Eskimo ceased his efforts, and laughingly remarked that he knew the white man was lying, when he told about the telephone, for nobody could talk through a wire that had no hole in it!"

Daugherty Asks Attorneys for Co-operation

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Co-operation of companies and professional men, such as attorneys, accountants and engineers having business at the Los Angeles and San Francisco branch offices of the State Corporation Department today was urged by Edwin M. Daugherty, Corporation Commissioner. "If this co-operation is forthcoming for the next three or four months," he said, "it will assist greatly in facilitating the work of passing upon permits and orders." At the end of that period, the Commissioner said, arrangements will have been made in the way of enlarged office space and additions to personnel to care for the large volume of departmental work which has increased seventy-five per cent since he began his duties as head of the department.
Evidence that the work of the department is still on the upgrade is contained in a report for August of this year, prepared in the head office of the department at Sacramento and given to the Commissioner to day. This report shows that 1982 applications were passed upon and orders issued in that month, compared with 1329 in August, 1924, an increase of 653 or nearly fifty per cent for the month. Daugherty said, when he became commissioner early in 1922, the volume of business was approximately one-fourth of what it is now. "Excepting auditors," he added, "the number of deputies handling permits is approximately the same as last year at this time, and although employees of the department are required to give their entire time to the State, an increase in personnel is necessary." "Arrangements," he said, "have been completed by the Board of Control for a material enlargement of the Los Angeles and San Francisco offices. This expansion cannot take place until about the first of February, 1926," he added, "when the number of employees will be increased if the volume of business makes that step necessary. At present," he said, "there is no available space for that increase."

"The only way in which the public having business before the department can obviate delay caused by congestion of work is to present matters they desire considered at as nearly a date as possible, and have their applications as near complete as they can."
"The consent of the legislature at its last session was obtained by me for a liberal appropriation, but it would be useless to employ more deputies now as there is no space for them to work."

LATHROP SUES R. R. COMPANY

The Market Street railway company of San Francisco has been made the defendant in a damage suit for $52,915.20, brought in the San Francisco Superior court by John F. Lathrop, 574 Nevin street, senior captain in the Richmond Fire Department.
The suit is the outgrowth of an accident on May 13, when Lathrop was struck by a company street car in San Francisco. He sustained a fracture of the skull and was hovering between life and death for many weeks. He claims he was permanently disabled in the damage complaint. Although he has not resumed duty at the fire department he is now able to be up and around.

Road Improvement To Be Made Soon

When the Board of Supervisors completed negotiations with the Hercules Water company for a strip of land 50 feet wide and 400 feet long, all rights-of-way necessary for the connecting of Road 17 with Stockton street had been secured. It was said that the right-of-way purchased from the Hercules company cost $500. The county is now ready to go ahead with the work on the road linking Stockton street with the Giant highway.

TOM MIX WILL BE SEEN HERE IN NEW FILM

"The Everlasting Whisper" starring Tom Mix, which opens a two day engagement at the California theatre today, is beyond question, one of the finest Mix pictures that have ever reached the screen.

First of all, "The Everlasting Whisper" has a story that is unusual, written by Jackson Gregory, who is conceded to be one of America's foremost writers of western fiction. It is a tale of the rugged Northwest, where the everlasting whisper of the breeze through tall, stately pines draws strong men into the hills and enchants them. In this setting there is enacted a thrilling tale of a battle for fortune and a girl—a girl who has to be tamed like a tigress.

Then there's the cast. Alice Calhoun, known as the orchid of the screen, plays the feminine lead opposite Mix. As the city-bred society girl, suddenly thrown into the rigors of the wilderness, she is in beautiful contrast to her rugged surroundings. Her dramatic performance leaves nothing to be desired. Robert Cain is the villain—and a thoroughly hatable one. Others in the cast are George Berrell, "Noble" Johnson, "Virginia" Madison and Karl Dane.

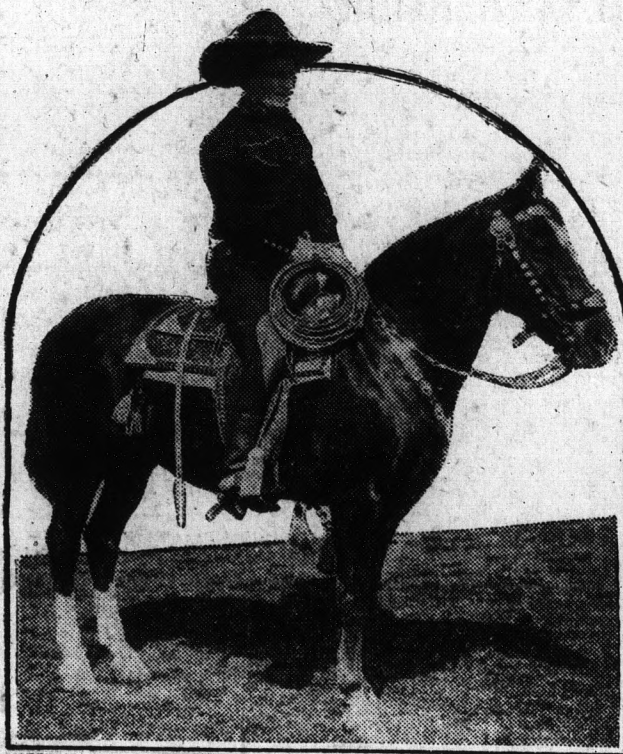

Other features on the same program include "A Misfit Sailor," a Billy Dooley comedy; International News; Larry Canelo at the organ.

Students Visit Santa Fe Shops

DORIS KENYON IS STARRING AT THE RICHMOND

Doris Kenyon, former stage favorite, who recently was given a starring contract with First National, will be seen in the greatest role of her career in "If I Marry Again," a love drama which comes today to the Richmond theatre.

The picture calls for a rare type of emotional acting—a type such as can be entrusted only to a very few players. That Miss Kenyon is ideally cast in this picture is manifest by the observations of the newspaper critics who have seen the picture and who agree that her characterization is one of the outstanding dramatic performances of the year.

Surrounding Miss Kenyon is an ideal cast of film favorites, including Lloyd Hughes, Frank Mayo, Hobart Bosworth, Anna Q. Nilsson, Myrtle Steadman and Baby Dorothy Brock.

"If I Marry Again" was written for the screen by Kenneth G. Clark from Gilbert Frankau's Metropolitan Magazine story. John Francis Dillon, who piloted to success "Flaming Youth," "Lilies of the Field" and "Flirting With Love," directed it, under Earl Hudson's supervision.

Other features on the same program include "Going Great," an Eddie Nelson comedy; "Sportlight," a novelty sport reel.

Picture at The Wesley M. E. Has Interesting Plot

Superior photography is promised, among other alluring features, in Vitagraph's "Pampered Youth," the picturization of Booth Tarkington's great novel, "The Magnificent Ambersons," which will be shown at the Wesley M. E. church tonight.

"Pampered Youth" deals with a family living in a small interior city, who take great pride in the display of their wealth. The Ambersons spent small fortunes on their buildings, both inside and out, and "went in" for magnificence rather than taste and harmony. With all their splendor the sets in the picture are sometimes beautiful and the clear mind, deft hand and artistic judgment of expert cameramen were required to translate all their beauty to the screen.

The photographic experts who assisted Director Smith in "Pampered Youth," are Steve Smith, Jr., David H. Smith, Ted Reed and Elmer Fryer. Steve Smith, Jr., attained more than national fame in past years as one of the greatest of serial cameramen, and more recently he has achieved in even greater success as a photographer who understands and appreciates beauty and the value of good photography.

Frank Lancaster, local property owner and milk dealer, is now being visited by his father, John Lancaster of Skipton, Yorkshire, England. The visitor expects to remain here for six months.

performers in the assembly show will be entertaining in the "nub" degree. Dainty dancing girls and choruses of little melody go to make this the musical comedy of the year. Critics who have seen the show hint that the real reason "No No Nardette" moved, was because Miss Woodward's talented artists were about to make their debut here. An added attraction in keeping with the season will be a zippy Halloween skit, "The First Quarrel," This is a scrappy bit of domestic difficulties and will drag a laugh out of the most solemn dispositioned blue-nose.

To add diversion to the program George Morris will present his Colored Opera company in the band house. This aggregation of performers has left audiences gasping for breath in every city between Point Richmond and Stege. They performed before the crowned heads of Richmond and the bald heads of Giant.

Besides all this there will be side shows galore. They will be stationed about the school in prominent spots. They are: The man eating fish; Rajah Raj-put-put-put, master and teacher of Houdini; Sir A. Foaming Boyle, spiritualistic teacher of Sir A. Conan Doyle; the tattooed man "with the funny marks;" the only living Siamese Twins and their twin cousins the Burmese Brothers; the snake charmer who lulls 'em to sleep with the Sleepy Serpent Blues. Last but not least, there comes the mermaids.

BEAR DEPARTS

Andy Smith and his golden clad Bear departed for the south last night where they will take on the inexperienced Pomona eleven and no doubt will administer a severe trouncing. The entire squad is in the traveling crew. The final strenuous workout before the game was held yesterday and Smith pronounced the eleven fit.

RULES TO CHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Serious consideration of the present rules governing scoring of football games is to be taken at the annual session of the rules committee. The inductive game and the extra point after touchdown are the two most important matters. Already in the East this season there have been fourteen tie games. Not so good.

DEMAND HEAVY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—A police squad had to be called out today to keep the crowds seeking tickets for the Penn-Illinois game Saturday under control. From five o'clock yesterday morning until nightfall thousands of students stood in front of the athletic office shouting for tickets. Then came hundreds of non-student fans.

LEARN FUNDAMENTALS

St. Mary's football coach, Slip Madigan is drilling his cohorts in the very fundamentals of the game this week. He is also using a new backfield combination. The new backfield will probably start against the Southern Branch of the University of California Saturday. Madigan has been springing numerous surprises this year and will probably keep on.

WINS 500 TO 1 SHOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A. K. Macomber made a 500 to 1 killing in London yesterday when he bet 500 pounds (about $500) on his horse and it came romping home leading the field and bringing his master something like $250,000. Old timers are rallying around the jockey club today to acclaim the new king of the betters whose luck held.

O'CONNELL BOOSTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—At the annual winter meeting of the big leagues, Commissioner Landis will be asked to re-consider the case of Jimmy O'Connell, former Giant out-fielder, now working as a cleaner and dyer of San Francisco. The movement is not being publically pushed by any individual but there is an undercurrent of favoritism for Jimmy.

Lacarno Treaty Defeat Threatened

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The Lacarno Security Pact hailed as bringing a great area of peace to Europe may fail to accomplish its purpose because of the possibility that Germany will refuse to ratify the pact. A wave of pessimism is sweeping the country. Nationalists have openly refuted the pact and the socialists have demanded the resignation of the Reichstag because of its support of the pact.

Gen. Sarrials To Be Relieved

(By Universal Service)
PARIS, Oct. 29.—General Sarrials, the French Governor of Syria, will tomorrow be relieved of his post and ordered to come to Paris to face a cabinet investigation regarding the shelling in Damascus. It was officially announced here tonight.

NEWLYWEDS RETURN HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miner have returned to this city from Salt Lake City where they were married last Saturday. The groom is the son of Mrs. B. F. Miner of 317 South Sixth street and is an employee of the Standard Oil. The happy couple plan to make their home in Oakland.

MRS. GILMORE SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. W. R. Gilmore of the Gilmore apartments, 253 Fourteenth street, is critically ill at her home and little hope is held for her recovery. She is 85 years of age. Dr. W. E. Cunningham is the attending physician.

Lower Grades Start Contest

Under the supervision of Miss Ruth Hesbol, girls' athletic supervisor, the fifth and sixth grades of the Richmond schools are conducting a Pentathlon contest. Miss Hesbol declares that the little people of these grades are taking keen interest in the contest in order to obtain the athletic shield for their class.

Both girls and boys are participating. Some of the events the girls are taking part in are posture, basketball throw for distance, basketball throw for accuracy, basketball throw for strike, and basketball throw for goal.

The boys participate in pullups, baseball strike, basketball throw for goal, basketball throw for distance and basketball throw for accuracy.

To Demonstrate Charleston At Legion Dance

An added attraction has been secured for the Halloween party to-night in the Memorial hall, given by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish War Veterans and G. A. R. Hall directors. John Novascone, assisted by Miss Pearl Toogood, well known local girl, will show the crowd how he won the first prize in the Charleston contest, held in the Paradise ballroom in Oakland.

Excellent music will be furnished by Denny Shaw's seven-piece orchestra, who has arranged some new dance features for the evening. Many novelties and stunts have been planned for the evening by the busy committee, who promises a big time for all those present. The committee includes: George S. Tandy, E. E. Grow, Ed Seger, J. J. Gilmore, floor managers, John Hansen, tickets, J. E. Robbins and Chas. St. John; hat, John William Vickery, Ralph Woods John Herrick will be on the general committee with J. H. Fitzpatrick chairman.

LOCAL MAN ON RADIO PROGRAM

Harold E. Smith, a resident of Richmond for many years, during which time he was a pupil in the local public school, will rattle the bones for radio station KGO. In the past all bands that played over the radio were compelled to do so without drums, as everything in the nature of those instruments blurs the music. J. L. Kaker, a local musician, has composed a special tune to accompany Smith and it will be broadcasted a little past 9 p. m. on Halloween night.

MERO BROTHERS WILL ENLARGE

Steady increase in business has caused the owners of the Mero Bros. Mastercraft Tile company to seriously consider enlargement of their plant. The great demand for the tile, which is used for roofs is accredited by the owners to its superior quality and the intensive selling campaign being carried on. The Monterey peninsula demands the most of this tile as it is in great favor there, where Spanish architecture is in vogue.

MRS. GILMORE SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. W. R. Gilmore of the Gilmore apartments, 253 Fourteenth street, is critically ill at her home and little hope is held for her recovery. She is 85 years of age. Dr. W. E. Cunningham is the attending physician.

NINE HURLERS STAGE PARADE AT RECREATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—There was a rain at Recreation park today during the eighth game of the Little World series between Louisville and San Francisco. Yes, it rained pitchers, nine count 'em nine, during the two hours and twenty minutes of alleged baseballing.

The Colonels and the Seals paraded five and four pitchers respectively for the benefit of the ball game going fans. The Colonels and the Seals made 12 and 11 runs respectively, also for the benefit of the fans who love to see the old apple sailing through the ozone or through some fielder's legs.

Anyhow the Colonels won and evened the series at four all. It will be a deciding game today. There is no telling what it will decide but officials declare it will decide something. It is supposed to let the world at large know the best minor league ball club in the world but as the Baltimore defeated the Colonels and the Colonels defeat San Francisco, just what it will decide is not known. Probably that Baltimore is the best club in the world.

Big Chief Tincup, ace of the Blue Grass state, who so successfully held the Seals in the first game of this long to be remembered series for nine long innings failed miserably to hold them yesterday for any of the nine minutes he was in the box. McWeeney Seal hurling luminary, did no better he being dispatched to the showers under a heavy fusillade of base hits and wildness combined. Griffin who succeeded him in the thankless position, was in a few moments succeeded by Pfeiffer who in turn passed out to Geary.

Who Ellison will use to keep the penant on the Pacific Coast today is yet to be announced.

Supervisors Will Be Pallbearers For Judge Hemme

Judge William Hemme of Danville who died in Martinez hospital last Tuesday will be laid to rest today with funeral services conducted from the Curry chapel in Martinez. Rev. Alexander of San Francisco will officiate. The Danville lodge of Odd Fellows will conduct services at the Alamo cemetery.

The pallbearers are members of the board of supervisors and ex-supervisors, who served when Hemme was a county official. They are Supervisors Oscar Olsson, C. H. Hayden, W. J. Buchanan and R. J. Trembath and ex-supervisors Paul de Martini and Vincent Hook. Hemme was 77 years of age.

PRECEDENT IS ESTABLISHED IN AIR CASE

In history, the long arm of the commander in chief reached out from the White House to the Texas area to order Mitchell before a military tribunal for trial for his utterances.

This action by the President it was admitted by high commanding officers comprising the Mitchell court, established a precedent which might become serious and far-reaching in importance.

A strict construction of the President's legal authority as demonstrated in Mitchell's case might enable the occupant of the White House to extend his arm to the meanest man in the ranks and order him to a court-martial over the heads of his commanding officers and in spite of all protests.

The admission that the President was the moving spirit in having Mitchell brought to trial was reluctantly made after Representative Reid of Illinois chief counsel for Mitchell, had badgered the judge advocate and the court for almost four hours in an effort to find out what was at the bottom of the charges.

Reid offered a motion to quash the entire proceedings upon the grounds that they were instituted in direct and specific violation of the military regulations describing the procedure for courtmartial action. Reid made this motion at the opening of the morning session, long before he

Arrangements for Big Scot Dance Are Completed

By The Lost Nomad
Although somewhat distorted we were able yesterday to shoot a picture of one of the Scot dance committee practicing for a demonstration of the new Charleston dance. Not wishing to give the gentleman away we'll call him Si and let it go at that. Si is scheduled to do some of the latest steps of the new dance and since we believe his statement that he has not been on a dance floor since the tango was in full bloom, it should be interesting. Incidentally this demonstration is to be given at the big Scot, rube dance tomorrow evening at East Shore Park. Although not on the official program a slant at the accompanying picture will assure you that it is going to be a wonder.

And speaking of wonders, the dance promises to be one of the wonders of the season. All those attending are to appear in rube costumes and the decorations will follow the same line.

An active committee has been engaged in preparing the details of the dance which is being given by the Richmond Pyramid of Scots. The committee in charge consists of the following: George T. Lohr, Jr., general chairman; Publicity, Dick Spiersch; check-room, Sam Boris; door committee, Geo. Black, Henry Westover; ticket office, J. M. Stewart; electric, Geo. Edwards; floor committee, J. W. Smiley chairman, William Barry, Carl Friesendorp, Richard Spiersch, George Bengley, Homer Patterson, George Bengley, Homer Patterson, George Lohr, Jr., Orville Soper and K. W. Spooky Party Held At Wesley Church

The spectacular spooky social in the Wesley Methodist church by Circle No. 4 Wesley Ladies Aid last night was one of the most unusual Halloween affairs of this year. A good crowd was present and the program included many odd characters; among them, the wisecracking wizard, Mrs. J. Johnson; 'Some superfluous Sybil, Mrs. A. J. McNary; Simple Sincere, Mrs. A. Richardson who was assisted by Donald McNary as Simple Sighman. The weird and exceedingly spooky passages were conducted by Mrs. A. J. Davidson, Mrs. Pearl Johnson and Mrs. Genevieve Striebel. Mrs. Will Hoskins and Mrs. Hugh Woods dispensed snowy specimens which were freshly popped corn. Mrs. M. P. Beebe was in charge of the refreshments. The unusual evening was an exceedingly successful affair.
